Under the continued direction of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lorden as Superintendent and Matron, the affairs at the Merrimack County Farm remain in a most satisfactory condition.

During the year such repairs as were necessary to keep the buildings in good condition were made.

Abundant crops were raised on the farm, thus making it possible to keep the cost of maintenance at a very reasonable figure.

REPORT OF THE CHAPLAIN

When I came to Boscawen last August to take up the work of the pastorate in that place, I was delighted to find that the work at the farm was also to be mine. An experience of five years in this work in another county in the state where the work proved so enjoyable, I was surprised above measure to find that conditions in Merrimack County Farm are much superior, and why? Well, what appeals to the new comer in his work is the cordial welcome he receives from the ideal and inspiring Superintendent and Matron, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Lorden, the beautiful and commodious chapel, the orderly way in which the inmates enter and leave this sacred place, and last but not least, the respectful and admirable spirit existing between inmates, attendants and those we have placed in authority.

Last September I began my two services on the first and third Sundays of each month. I have made them preaching services, not philosophy, not sociology, not even current events, but the Bible and especially that part of it that we recognize as the Gospel. There will be no difference in the message given from the pulpit of the church and that given in the chapel. There should never be, for my Master gave his best to the poor and the unfortunate during his earthly ministry. The attendance so far has been unusually good. I have had the privilege on several occasions of speaking to our three commissioners and other friends when visiting the institution.

The Christmas was a grand success this year. Mr. and Mrs. Haggerty, many said, surpassed their former good work in the past. It was the finest and most appropriate decoration of the kind we have ever seen.

Two large trees were not sufficient for the many gifts. The entertainment was enjoyed by all. After a brief religious service appropriate to Christmas, a program consisting of humorous, vocal, piano and banjo selections were rendered by Dr. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Longfellow, and Miss Stevens of Franklin. We extend our thanks this year to Mrs. John Martin of Concord for her kindness and heartfelt interest and to all others who have brought a ray of sunshine into the lives of our folks at the farm.

On October 30th the Boscawen Dramatic Club presented the drama, "Deacon Dubbs," at the farm. It would seem that this served a double purpose, for it brought an evening of joy to those who might not be able to get it in any other way, and in the second place it allowed a score of citizens to inspect the splendid institution our county supports.

Respectfully submitted,

DANIEL McINTYRE.

GEORGE M. FLETCHER,

Clerk of Superior Court for Merrimack County.

REPORT OF COUNTY SOLICITOR

For the year 1923

To the Commissioners of the County of Merrimack:

I hereby submit my report for the year ending December 31, 1923.

At the April Term of the Superior Court, the Grand Jury found nine indictments as follows:

Adultery	7
Breaking and entering	1
Unlawful cohabitation	1

Of these respondents one was sentenced to prison, one received a suspended prison sentence, three were fined and given suspended jail sentences and the case against a veteran of the World war was dropped because of the condition of his health.

At the October Term of the Superior Court indictments were found against thirteen persons as follows:

Adultery	2
Automobile law	1
Breaking and entering	5
Larceny	6
Murder	3
Rape	1

Two of these murder indictments were against Nunie George Tsekos of Franklin who killed his wife and mother-in-law on August 11. Certain aspects of this crime were peculiarly revolting but there was serious doubt as to whether there was sufficient premeditation to convict the respondent of first degree murder. Accordingly he was sentenced to prison for life, and the County was saved what might well have been needless expense.

The other murder charge was against Francis L. Henning who was involved in the killing of Vernon F. Atkins at his home in Concord on April 11. The actual shooting was done by another and after due consideration, the Court sentenced Henning to State Prison for not less than six nor more than eight years. The wisdom of this course has been amply vindicated by subsequent events, for on January 7, 1924, Leo A. Roach was arrested in Boston and now awaits trial for the actual shooting.

Of the other respondents three were sent to prison, two to the House of Correction, two were fined and two received suspended sentences.

At this Term there was entered the unusual number of nineteen appeal cases and two informations. Of these offences ten were against the automobile law, six against the liquor law, two for disorderly conduct, one for assault and one for drunkenness. There were four jury trials in connection with these misdemeanors in all of which a verdict of guilty was returned and the remaining seventeen cases were disposed of on favorable terms to the state.

The prosecution of criminals in this County for the year 1923 has been unusually successful and an important factor has been the splendid co-operation of city, county, state and federal officers in bringing about a common result.

HERBERT W. RAINIE,
County Solicitor.
